NEW BUILDING

In tankers, clients of Enesel are reported to have declared a further optional 115k dwt Aframax at Shanghai Waigaoqiao. Delivery is set to take place within 2024, and this option brings the series to three overall.

In the gas carrier market, Hyundai LNG Shipping announced ordering a firm 174k CBM LNG Carrier at Daewoo (DSME), with delivery set for 2Q 2024. Phoenix Tankers (MOL) announced contracting one firm plus one optional dual fuelled 87k CBM VLGC at Namura Shipbuilding, with delivery of the firm vessel expected within 2023.

In containers, Fujian Mawei announced taking order for six firm 1,100 TEU boxships from TS Lines, with delivery of the vessels set to take place throughout 2023.

In the car carrier market, Mitsui OSK Lines (MOL) announced PCC orders at two separate yards. MOL ordered two firm LNG dual-fuel 7,000 CEU PCC's at Shin Kurishima, with the first vessel set to be delivered in 2024 and the second in 2025. They also announced ordering two firm 7,000 CEU PCC's at Nihon Shipyard, with both vessels being LNG dual-fuel and again to be delivered in 2024 and 2025, respectively.

In the cruise sector, Ocean Residences Development announced ordering a 1,000 pax residential yacht at Meyer Werft. The vessel is LNG dual-fuel and battery hybrid fitted, and the delivery is expected in 2025.

RECYCLING

Sizzling Summer!

Prices soared further again this week and caught Owners eyes as we finally saw a volume of Wet (including gas) units enter the market, across all sizes. This is what the market has been waiting for and is a break from tradition, seeing the summer months so active. Perhaps now we may see the market slowly returning to something resembling a vigorous period once again as more tonnage arrives to the market on the back of these firming price levels.

There does however always seem to be something to soften the mood and this week, a sudden announcement was reported from Pakistan. With immediate effect, the Government (FBR - Federal Board of Revenue) have raised the minimum value of long steel products (including re-roll-able ship plate & other re-roll-able material obtained from ships) for ascertaining /calculating the sales tax. As such, an increase equivalent to about USD 60/ton on Sales Tax/ other taxes has been implemented. The local recyclers themselves are still digesting the news and working out what sort of price correction, if any, this will have on them.
