NEW BUILDING

In dry bulk this week, Beihai announced signing two firm 210k dwt Newcastlemax with Zheijiang Xiehai Shipping, with delivery of both vessels expected within 2023. It is being reported that Taizhou Jiahang Shipping ordered two firm 85k Kamsarmax at Tianjin Xingang Shipyard, with delivery of both vessels expected within 1Q 2023.

In the car carrier market, SFL Corporation announced orders for two further LNG dual-fuel 7,000 CEU PCC's at GSI Nansha. The vessels bring the series to four overall, with delivery expected in 1Q and 2Q 2024.

RECYCLING

Precariously Poised!

With a slight correction from Bangladesh and Pakistan this week, activity across the board seemed to slow once again after the recent flurry of late Summer sales. The momentum that was gained appeared to lose its grasp this week as there was some talk that several owners who were looking to sell their units decided to temporise for the time being. The Indian recyclers may now be in a position to step in as levels return to an area where the Alang recyclers can once again compete for the conventional tonnage, not just those units that require HKC recycling.

Any available unit will no doubt arrive from the beleaguered tanker sector where any recovery hangs in the balance after Coronavirus flare ups in China disrupt its economic recovery and ultimately affecting the demand for Oil. If the recovery is slowed, then the promise of wet units on a large scale may finally arrive and appease the appetite for some of the Indian sub continental breakers. But for the moment, whilst supply remains limited, any slight negative correction should recover soon keeping recycling prices at the current 10-year high, allowing Owners to continue to reap the benefits.
