NEW BUILDING

A relatively quiet week in the market with deals only surfacing in the dry bulk space. Yangzijiang have announced contracts with their compatriot Yangzijiang Shipping for a series of 4 x 82,300 dwt Kamsarmax Bulkers. These will be built at the yards Yangzi-Mitsui facility and will be delivering from late 2022 and early 2023. Meanwhile, domestic owner Hainan Chuangyuan Shipping are reported to have ordered a series of 6 x 15.5K Dwt LNG DF Bulkers at Yangzhou Ryuwa Shipbuilding – with the vessels set to deliver from 2023 onwards.

RECYCLING

Wet Forecast!

As the Tanker charter rates continue to struggle, several Owners seem to be making a quick decision to catch the recycling market whilst it remains hot as we have seen several larger Tanker units being circulated for sale during the week. The question is, however, whether these tanker units are eventually concluded for recycling or if indeed, further trading buyers appear and steal the units away from the clutches of the recyclers.

The Bangladeshi recyclers appear to be in the prime position to acquire any available unit, as their current indications remain higher than their counterparts elsewhere in the subcontinent. The rates from Pakistan are still firm, however still fall short of those on offer from Bangladesh, whereas the Indian market this week saw a fall by some USD 25/ldt from recent weeks following a significant drop in finished steel products in the last 14 days. The Bangladesh plate prices continue to provide justification for the recent high offers on the table from the Buyers and there does not seem to be any concern for any correction, however there is now most definitely some caution that has crept in from the Indian market.
