NEW BUILDING

In dry bulk this week, Chengxi signed contracts for four firm plus four optional 63.5k dwt Ultramaxes with Huaxia Financial Leasing. Delivery of the firm vessels are expected to begin in 4Q 2023 and run into 2024. Taiwan Navigation announced ordering two firm 63.5k dwt Ultramaxes at Oshima Shipbuilding, with delivery of the vessels set for 2024.

In the gas carrier market, it was reported that CenerTech ordered one firm 12k CBM LNG Bunkering vessel at Nantong CIMC SOE, with the vessel slated for delivery in July 2024.

In general cargo, Fosenn Yard Emden announced contracting six firm 5,000 dwt General Cargo Vessels from an unknown German Owner, with delivery of all six vessels expected within 2023.

Finally, in the Ferry market, it was reported that Rete Ferroviaria Italiana ordered a firm LNG Dual-Fuel, 150m LOA RoRo at Astillero Barreras, with delivery of the vessel set for 2024.

RECYCLING

Snail's pace!

The slow movement towards the Christmas holidays continues with very few new ships being circulated into the market.

Some stability seems to have returned to the industry as the lack of tonnage in circulation seems to be the only reasoning why the markets are not falling further. Price levels from the Indian recyclers looks like they have now bottomed out following the recent constant declines, however the price levels from Alang are now too far below those on offer from their counterparts from Bangladesh and Pakistan which would mean there will be little tonnage arriving to their waterfront in the future weeks.

There has been a sale of a VLCC reported this week which at any other time, would enlighten the market, however questions are being raised as to whether the vessel will still find some purpose for further use instead of a reported recycling candidate, so time will tell as to whether the vessel arrives at a recycling yard in future months.
