MARKET SUMMARY

INDIA

- Indian recyclers remain keen to acquire fresh tonnage, with currency movements offering some support to buyers, while softer steel prices continue to weigh on sentiment.
- Breakers are still showing interest, though bidding levels are not strong enough to match those currently being offered by their counterparts in Bangladesh.
- The ceasefire has also slowed buying activity, with recyclers taking a more measured approach for the time being.
- The first few yards that had applied have now received DASR, with Priya Blue Industries being one of them.

BANGLADESH

- The Chittagong market remains firm and is expected to stay so through the end of May.
- Buyers are actively securing tonnage in anticipation of potential unfavorable changes to duties in the upcoming June budget, which has supported current demand.
- A few recent sales have been concluded at healthy levels, reflecting the strength in the market.
- At the same time, sentiment remains mixed, with some breakers bidding aggressively and pushing prices higher than the previous week, while the ceasefire has slightly softened the overall mood.

PAKISTAN

- The market is becoming keener by the day for the purchase of fresh tonnage due to the ongoing conflict.
- The stoppage of imported steel, including previously unofficial inflows, is supporting local market conditions for now. Following the ceasefire, it remains to be seen how long this situation will persist.
- For the time being, the market is expected to remain relatively buoyant.
- Foreign exchange issues continue to persist, while longer payment timelines remain a challenge for buyers.

TURKIYE

- The Turkish market remained largely unchanged this week, with no notable movement in pricing or sentiment.
- While some increase in import activity and local movement had been observed in the previous week, no such momentum was seen this week.
- Overall, the market continues to hold at previous levels, with neither a clear rise nor fall evident for the time being.
